  - a. Accomplishments from recent workdays: Members have been meeting weekly every Monday, usually around 4:30 in the afternoon. The garden is well planted and really taken care of; some weeding has been done. The water system is working well.
  - b. Assigning duties: Fertilizing will be done next Monday so that it is occurring once every two weeks. Beetles will be picked as they are spotted so that they don't become established. Educate people about planting cycles on the next workday and seeing if some of the gaps in the planting beds can be filled. There's a Google calendar keeping track of who is overseeing the garden each week. Brainstorming for new signage about bees and not picking the flowers. Discussing the possibility of a bench with a placard.
